

If there is anything wrong with college life it would seem that it is not caused by the lack of societies. We haven't heard of one for the prevention of studies, but there seems to be one for almost everything else. The latest to make its appearance is N. F. C. U. S. (National Federation of Canadian University Students). At a meeting of this society held at Mt. A., St. Dunstan's was represented by Leonard MacDonald and Wilfred Driscoll. A second meeting was held in Winnipeg during the Christmas holidays. This time Leonard MacDonald and Clifford Murphy looked after the interests of St. Dunstan's. N. F. C. U. S. has already effected reduced travelling fares for students, and is working for the establishment of scholarships for deserving students, both very worth-while accomplishments.

The co-eds recently put on a fudge sale in aid of the C. F. C. C. S. The results were very gratifying, forty five dollars being realized. It is reported that several faculty members colluded to impose fudge of an inferior quality on a fellow faculty member, but the whole sinister plot boomeranged.

On December 2nd, the Dramatic Society and Glee Club united in presenting an evening of entertainment in the College Hall. The programme comprised three one-act plays and several musical numbers. "Mike" Dunphy very capably acted as Master of Ceremonies, introducing to the audience several internationally known actors whose faces, however, bore remarkable resemblances to some of our own students. We understand that the Dramatic Society, under the direction of Mr. A. P. Campbell, M. A. and "Mike" Dunphy, will present a three act play later in the season.

In the latter part of December the Glee Club, directed by Justin Gavin, entertained the Sanatorium patients with a musical and comedy programme. Many favourable comments were heard as to the high quality of the entertainment. It is noted that Justin is a very regular visitor to the Sanatorium, no doubt arranging for future performances by the Glee Club.

St. Dunstan's debating teams of this year have been very successful, winning all three of the debates in which they participated. Jim Morris and Wilf Driscoll defeated U. N. B.; Cyril Sinnott and Lorne MacDonald won from Dalhousie; Allan Noonan and Evelyn Hessian were victors over St. Mary's. This fine record reflects very favourably on the coach, Rev. Fredrick Cass. St. Dunstan's now enters the Maritime finals against Acadia, and is represented by Cyril Sinnott and Wilfred Driscoll.

With regard to debating, the success achieved by St. Dunstan's teams has given her some very valuable publicity. To our way of thinking this is the kind of publicity a college needs, that is as an educational institution not as just another place where such and such a champion sport team hails from. This is not meant to minimize the importance of sports in college life, but it is a well known fact that there is a tendency at the present time to over-emphasize sports and at the same time to delegate to the background the primary educational function of the institution. The fact that S. D. U. has developed winning debating teams as well as champion sport teams, gives us some evidence that she has not lost sight of the balance that should exist between mental and physical development.

Frank Bolger, Clark MacAulay, Reginald Phelan, Frank Costello and Claude Shea, five of last year's graduates now in Seminaries, spent their Christmas vacations at home.

We are sorry to learn that Patrick McInnis, another of last year's graduates, has been forced through ill-health to discontinue his studies at Notre Dame University and return home. A speedy recovery, Pat!

Dr. H. L. Johnson, Ph.D., a former professor at S. D. U., has accepted a position teaching Moral Philosophy at Notre Dame University.

On February 3rd, the Senior Prom was held at the Holy Name Hall. This is the second year that such a function was held, and it again provided a good evening's entertainment.

OBITUARY

On February 1st, Bishop Francis C. Kelly of Oklahoma, a graduate and generous benefactor of St. Dunstan's, passed to his Eternal Reward. In another section of this issue further reference is made to his passing. May his soul rest in peace!

Rev. Charles P. Trainor, S.S. died suddenly from a heart attack, on December 23rd last, in Tulsa, Oklahoma, where he was visiting his brother. Father Trainor was a student here from 1914 to 1918; he left after completing his junior year of philosophy to enter St. Mary's Seminary, Baltimore. After ordination in 1923 he remained with the Sulpician Fathers, to make teaching his life work. He later spent two years in Rome where he obtained a doctorate in Theology. His teaching years were spent at various Sulpician Houses: St. Mary's Seminary, St. Charles College,

St. Joseph's College, California, and, for the past year, at St. Edward's Seminary, Washington. Father Trainor was a man of sterling character, high ideals, brilliant in his student and teaching work, and one who made valuable contribution to the education of priests in the United States. His death comes as a great shock to his many relatives and friends in this province. May he rest in peace!

ATHLETICS

With the mercury setting coolly around zero most of these days, the current topic of discussion around the College, of course, is hockey. After hockey games the buzz is particularly loud as each student voices his opinion of how the team won or lost (Yes, we lost one). Intermingled with hockey discourses is the basketball chatter. The Saints' basketball team is also playing regularly this winter and is giving a good account of itself. But before we get ahead of our story let us bring you up to date from the last issue.

The Saints' intermediate football team returned the Intermediate Intercollegiate football title to St. Dunstan's last fall after a lapse of seven years. In the last game the Saints defeated Prince of Wales 10-5 and thus had a clear cut margin of two wins and a tie in the best out of three series. The scoring for the Saints in this game was done by Dunstan Murphy and "Shorty" MacKinnon, who each scored a try; and also by George Cameron who converted a try and kicked a field goal.

Red and White extends its sincerest congratulations to Father Cass' squad and wish them every success next year. Perhaps it is a little too soon to speculate just now, but from the way we see it there could be some very good recruits for the first team next year from this team.

HOCKEY

The Saints' first team is again entered in the City Hockey League this season. The other teams in the league are Prince of Wales, Navy and the Summerside All-Stars. Thus far the Red and White boys have not been defeated by the other teams and it is the general opinion that they are the best squad in the league.
